

head against him; and to secure Deux-Ponts, has put a Garrison of 2000 Men in it, commanded by several eminent Officers.

Cologne, Oct. 30. The Osnabrug Troops, which have been this Campaign in the service of Spain, are arrived in this Diocels, and are at present quartered about five German miles from hence; and this afternoon the Couné de Lippe is come hither, and has had Audience of our Elector, whom, it's said, he acquainted that the said Troops are to winter in this Countrey, as well to hinder the incursions of the French of Limburg and Maesricht, as for their own conveniency; and two Dutch Regiments which came from Yveues, and are at present quartered in the Villages of Rhindorf and Villig, will go and take their Quarters near the said Osnabrug Troops. From Mayer and those parts they write, that the Imperial Regiments, Commanded by Major-General Dantwaldt, had joyned the Lunenburgh and Munster Troops, but no account could be given of their design, farther than what the general discourse was, they would enter Lorraine, and march directly towards the Marschal de Crequi. There has been great rejoicing at Düsseldorf, on occasion of the Marriage of the Emperor with the Princess of Newburg.

Amsterdam, Nov. 3. You have already heard that the States General had by their resolution fixed the first instant for the beginning the Treaty at Nimeguen, but since we understand, that at the instance of their Allies, they have deferred it till the 14, by which time it is expected the Ministers of most of the Princes concerned in the present War, will be arrived upon the place. From Middleburg they write, That three Capers more of those that destroyed the French fishing Fleet at Newfoundland, were arrived there, bringing with them only three Prizes. From Flanders they write, That the Forces are now actually in their Winter-quarters, except those designed for Cambray, who cannot pass farther than Valencennes.

Hague, Nov. 8. We begin to talk here of making Recruits again Spring, and the more, for that the Letters we receive from France, speak of very great preparations that are making there; but till the state of the War for the next year be finished by the Council of State, and approved by the States General, we shall not know certainly what recruits or levies will be made here. The 4th inst. the Court of Justice was assembled from 8 in the morning, till late in the afternoon, in the presence of his Highness, who sat there as Stadholder, the business, as it's said, was about determining the affair of the Sieur de Grovot. Two dayes since arrived here Count Waldeck, and other general Officers arrive daily; but as for all other Officers as high as Colonels, they are strictly commanded to remain in their respective Quarters and Garrisons. The Heer Heugh, the Danish Plenipotentiary, has already sent away his Baggage to Nimeguen, whither he will himself follow in a day or two. The Heer Odyke purposes likewise to begin his journey thither very soon; and by the middle of this month, when the Assembly is to be opened, it is thought most of the Ambassadors of the principal Parties concerned in this War, may be arrived upon the place. The Emperor has written a very earnest Letter to the Bishop of Munster, concerning his withdrawing his Troops out of Ostfrigeland, which has given the States of that Province great occasion of complaint. The Letters we receive this morning from Dantzick and Hamburg, assure us of a Peace being concluded between the Poles and the Turks; and though the conditions of it were not yet known, yet it was by all hands concluded to be advantageous to the Poles, considering the present posture their affairs are in.

Brussels, Nov. 3. We have Letters from Valenciennes, which inform us, that the French are retired into their Winter-quarters, after having put a good Garrison into Chateau Cambresis; and some other places; and that Don Francisco Marcos de Velasco, was at length safely arrived with the Troops under his command at Cambray, having very narrowly escaped falling into the hands of Baron Quincy, who was abroad with 38 Squadrons of Horse, with design to intercept him, and came but half an hour too late to effect it. Since we hear that the said Baron has received orders to march with the said Cavalry towards Lorraine, to join the Marschal de Crequi. According to what they write from Siracusa, and those parts, we cannot perceive there is any likelihood of the Imperialists passing the Rhine, but on the contrary, that they are preparing to go and take their Winter-quarters in Suabia and Franconia. The Elector of Bavaria, we hear, is sending his Plenipotentiaries to Wimburg.

Duis, Nov. 6. There is at present a Treaty on foot, managed by Commissioners appointed on both sides, in order to the taking off all Contributions for the ease of the poor Inhabitants, but as yet we cannot hear of any thing concluded in that matter. This day arrived our Spanish Letters, which among other things say, that a very great Sum of Money will be demitted hither, in order to the raising a considerable Force against Spring. From Spire they write, That the Duke of Zell, with his, the Munster, and Imperial Troops commanded by Major General Dantwaldt, is marched directly towards Bruxponts, but that the Countrey round that place being very much overflowed through the high waters, it is believed that the said Troops will not be able to attack it. Don Pedro Ronquillo & Monsieur Chiffart, our two Plenipotentiaries, will depart to-morrow or on Monday on their way to Nimeguen, where, it's said, the Treaty will be begun the 11 instant. We are told of some Proposals that have been made on the part of the Confederates to the States of Liege, concerning their receiving a Garrison into the City of Liege, to secure them against the Insults of the French; and that those States have answered, that they are sufficiently able to take themselves care of the defence of the said City.

Paris, Nov. 7. On Monday next their Majesties and the whole Court will remove from Verfailles to St Germain, to pass the Winter there. The last week the Popes Nuncio had Audience of the King, to whom, it's said, he proposed in the Name of his Holiness a Cassation of Arms. From Germany we have advice, that the Duke of Lorraine, who still continues on the other side of the Rhine, has received orders from Vienna to put the Army into Winter-quarters, which if he do, the Duke of Luxemburg will not remain long after him in the Field, for that the Season grows very sharp. According to the last advices we received from Marschal Crequi, we have reason to expect some action between him and the Duke of Zell, who commands the Munster and Luxemburg Troops. From Sicily we have an account, that the Duke of Vivonne has besieged Siracusa since the 9th past, having before possessed himself of several Posts thereabouts.

Advertisements.

The Longitude found: Or a Treatise, shewing an easie and speedy way as well by night as by day, to find the Longitude, having but the Latitude of the place, and the Inclination of the Magnetical Inclinatory Needle, by Henry Bond senior, Examined by six Commissioners, appointed by order of the Kings Most Excellent Majesty, whose names are in the Book, printed by the Kings Majesties special Command: And are to be sold by the Author at his house in Stone-house-yard in Katcliff, by Robert Green at the Rose and Crown in Budge row, Godfrey Richards at the Golden Ball in Cornhill over against the Royal Exchange, and John Thomson at the Dial in the Great Mithrids.

Lost the 14 of October last, out of Chaply Field at Norwich, a young stout white Mare, only her shoulders, mane, and one-buttock a little gray, well eyed, her eye the blackest, and short dockt. Whoever can give notice of her to Mr Rob. Pash Stationer in the Piazza on the North-side the Royal Exchange, shall have 40 s. Reward.

Lost the 27 of October last, at night, a little mottled Bitch with yellow mottles from head to toe, her ears being all yellow. Whoever gives notice of her to Mr Bishop at Wing Lodge in Buckinghamshire, or to Francis Biggs at the Three Tun in Gracem-street, London, or Mr Robert Addinal at Godwin Gate in Turk, shall have 40 s. Reward.