Whitehall, September 30, 1780.

BY Brigadier-General Dalrymple, who arrived from New York in His Majesty's Ship Virginia the 25th Instant, Dispatches have been received from General Sir Henry Clinton to Lord George Germain, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, of which the following are Extracts:

Extract of a Letter from Sir Henry Clinton, K. B. to Lord George Germain, dated New York, August 14, 1780.

IHAD the Honor to inform your Lordship in my last of my Arrival from Charles Town, and of the Position in which I had placed the Troops four Miles in Front of King's-bridge Defences.

My Advices from your Lordship had given me Cause to expect a French Armament; and Intelligence, which I communicated to Admiral Arbuthnot, had convinced me that their first Destination was Rhode Island. I, in consequence, solicited that Transports for 6000 Men might be in full Readiness to receive Troops, should early Intimation of the Enemy's Arrival invite to Enterprize against them.

On the 5th of July some Ships of War fell in with the French Fleet off Cape Henry; and on the 8th the Admiral received Information of it. The 13th Admiral Graves arrived.

On the 18th, by a Courier from the East End of Long Island, the first Intelligence was received of the Arrival, on the 10th, of the French off Rhode Island, which I transmitted immediately to Admiral Arbuthnot.

In the Hope that I might yet be in Time to undertake something offensive against the Enemy, either by a Land Attack solely, or, if the Admiral should have found it adviseable, a joint Attempt with the Fleet, I determined, as speedily as possible, to put a Body of Troops afloat in the Sound, ready for Operation to the Eastward, if farther Information should warrant it, and not too distant to return rapidly, and act against the Rebel Army, should they, in my Absence, form an Enterprize against these Posts.

Many Causes conspired to retard the Arrival of Transports at Frogs-Neck, from which Place my Embarkation was only effected the 27th. During this Time all Hopes of Success from a Coup de Main were of course wasted away.

The Camilla and Amphitrite, which were appointed to convoy us, joining the same Day, I proceeded with the Transports to Huntingdon Bay, where I was honoured with such Accounts from the Admiral, of the Attention the Enemy had given to fortify themselves, that I no longer entertained an Idea of making any Attempt solely with the Troops. I cannot judge what might have been expected from a joint Operation; but I presume that, in the Aspect Affairs bore at that Time, it was not to be undertaken with Propriety.

On the 31st therefore I returned to Whitestone, where I disembarked the Troops, keeping the Transports in Readiness to receive them again, if necessary; and the Army encamped near the Shore.

During this Time Walsingham, by a rapid Movement, had, with an Army increased to 12,000 Men, passed the North River, and was moving towards King's-bridge, when he must have learned that my Armament had not proceeded to Rhode Island. He (I apprehend in Consequence of this) recrossed the River, and is now near Orange Town.

The Admiral is near Gardner's Island, to which Place I shall, if possible proceed to confer with him and his Officers, that if any Thing can be done by the Fleet, the secondary Assistance of the Land Forces may be given; for it is no longer in my Power, with my present Numbers and Resources, to think of any deliberate Undertaking as principal, against the united Force of the French and Rebels, in a Post which 3500 British were able to maintain, in a meaner Posture of Defence, against 18,000 Men, and a very powerful Fleet.

Extract of a Letter from Sir Henry Clinton to Lord George Germain, dated East Hampton, Suffolk County, Long Island, August 20, 1780.

IHAVE the Satisfaction of communicating to your Lordship an Instance of Courage, which reflects the greatest Honor on a small Body of the Refugees.

About Seventy of them had taken Post on a Part of the opposite Shore on the North River, called Bull's Ferry, where they had fortified themselves with a Blockhouse and Stockade, to be protected in cutting Wood, the Labour they were employed in for their Maintenance.

A Corps of near Two Thousand Rebels under their Generals Wayne, Irving and Proctor, with Seven Pieces of Cannon, made an Attack upon them on the 21st ult. Notwithstanding a Cannonade of Three Hours, almost every Shot of which penetrated through the Blockhouse, and an Attempt to carry the Place by Assault, they were repulsed by these brave Men, with the Loss of a great many killed and wounded. The Exertions of the Refugees did not cease, after having resisted so great a Force; they followed the Enemy, seized their Stragglers, and rescued from them the Cattle they were driving from the neighbouring District.

The Blockhouse, which I visited, was pierced with Fifty-two Shot in One Face only; and the Two small Guns that were in it dismounted. Six of the Refugees were killed, and Fifteen wounded, the far greater Part in the Blockhouse.

THE following are Extracts of Four Letters from Lieutenant General Earl Cornwallis to Sir Henry Clinton, received with the above.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Earl Cornwallis to Sir Henry Clinton, dated Charles-Town, South Carolina, June 30, 1780.

THE Submission of General Williamson at Ninety-six, whose Capitulation I inclose with Captain Paris's Letter, and the Dispersion of a Party of Rebels, who had assembled at an Iron Work on the North West Border of the Province, by a Detachment of Dragoons and Militia from Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull, put an End to all Resistance in South Carolina.

I have agreed to a Proposal made by Mr. Harrison, to raise a Provincial Corps of Five Hundred Men, with the Rank of Major, to be composed of the Natives of the Country between the Pedee and Wateree, and in which it is at present extremely probable that he will succeed.

I have established the most satisfactory Correspondence, and have seen several People of Credit and undoubted Fidelity from North Carolina. They all agree in Assurances of the good Disposition of a considerable Body of the Inhabitants, and of the Impossibility of subsisting a Body of Troops in that Country till the Harvest is over. This Reason, the Heat of the Summer, and the unfertile State of South Carolina, all concurred to convince me of the Necessity of postponing offensive Operations on that Side until the latter End of August or Beginning of September; and, in consequence, I sent Emisaries to the leading Persons amongst our Friends, recommending, in the strongest Terms, that they should attend to their Harvest, prepare Provisions, and remain quiet until the King's Troops were ready to enter the Province.

Notwithstanding these Precautions, I am sorry to say, that a considerable Number of loyal Inhabitants of Tryon County, encouraged and headed by a Colonel Moore, rose on the 18th Instant, without Order or Caution, and were, in a few Days, defeated by General Rutherford, with some Loss.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Earl Cornwallis to Sir Henry Clinton, dated Charles-Town, July 14, 1780.

SINCE my Arrival at this Place, I have been employed in the internal Regulations of the Province, and settling the Militia of the Lower Districts, both of which are in great Forwardness; and I have kept up a constant Correspondence with the Frontiers and the interior Parts of North Carolina, where the Aspect of Affairs is not so peaceable as when I wrote last. Major-General de Kalbe is certainly at Hillsborough with 2000 Continental Troops, including some Cavalry, and said to be preparing to advance to Salisbury: Porterfield is in the Neighbourhood of Salisbury with 300 Virginians; and Rutherford with some Militia with him: Caswell with 1500 Militia is marched from Cross Creek to the Deep River between Hillsborough and Salisbury; and Sumpter, with about the same Number of Militia, is advanced as far as the Catawba Settlement. Lord Rawdon reports to me, that many of the disaffected South Carolinians, from the Waxhaw and other Settlements on the Frontier, whom he had put on Parole, have availed themselves of the General Release of the 20th of June, and have joined General Sumpter.

Accounts from Virginia, through different Channels, say, that 2500 of their Militia had followed de Kalbe; that the Assembly had voted 5000 Men to be immediately drafted to serve as a Corps of Observation; and had vested their Governor with absolute Power during their Absence. The Government of North Carolina is likewise making great Exertions to raise Troops, and persecuting our Friends in the most cruel Manner; in consequence of which Colonel Bryan, although he had promised to wait for my Orders, lost all Patience, and rose with about 800 Men on the Yadkin; and, by a difficult and dangerous March, joined Major M'Arthur on the Borders of Anson County: About Two Thirds only of his People were armed, and those I believe but indifferent.

The Effects of the Operations which the Enemy are making in those two Provinces will, I make no Doubt, be exaggerated to us. To enable me to begin first I am using every possible Dispatch in transporting to Camden, Rum, Salt, Regimental Stores, Arms, and Ammunition, which, on Account of the Distance and excessive Heat of the Season, is a Work of infinite Labour, and requires a considerable Time. In the mean while, the Measures that I have directed Lord Rawdon to take, will, I trust, put it out of the Power of the Enemy to strike a Blow at any of our Detachments, or to make any considerable Inroads into this Province. I have the Satisfaction to assure your Excellency, that the Numbers and Disposition of our Militia equal my most sanguine Expectations.

I have agreed to the Proposal of Mr. Cunningham, in the Ninety-six District, to raise a Corps on the Footing of Major Harrison's.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Earl Cornwallis to Sir Henry Clinton, dated Charles-Town, July 15, 1780.

I Have just received Intelligence from Lord Rawdon, that de Kalbe has certainly joined Caswell at Coxe's Plantation on the Deep River: His Lordship in Consequence has withdrawn Major M'Arthur's Detachment over the Black Creek, where he means to join him with two Battalions, and post Lieutenant-Colonel Webster on Hanging Rock Creek. This will make his Situation pretty compact; but I fear the Enemy will make Inursions into the Country. I propose going down in a few Days; although you will easily imagine, that Arrangements here are much wanted, and that I can be but ill spared; the other Business is however the most pressing.

The Lord Rawdon likewise inclosed to me a Letter from Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull at Rocky Mount, on the West Bank of the Wateree, thirty Miles from Camden, who reports, that having heard that some of the violent Rebels, about thirty Miles in his Front, had returned to their Plantations, and were encouraging the People to join them, he sent Captain Huck of the Legion, with a Detachment of about 30 or 40 of that Corps, 20 mounted Men of the New York Volunteers, and 60 Militia, to seize or drive them away. Captain Huck, encouraged by meeting with no Opposition, encamped in an unguarded Manner, was totally surprized and routed. The Captain was killed, and only 12 of the Legion, and as many of the Militia, escaped.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Earl Cornwallis to Sir Henry Clinton, dated Charles-Town, Aug. 6, 1780.

THE general State of Things, in the two Provinces of North and South Carolina, is not very materially altered since my Letters of the 14th and 15th of last Month were written. Frequent Skirmishes, with various Success, have happened in the Country between the Catawba River and Broad River. The Militia of the District about Tiger and Ennorec Rivers was formed by us under Colonel Floyd; Colonel Neale, the Rebel Colonel, had fled; but Lieut. Colonel Lisle, who had been paroled to the Islands, exchanged, on his Arrival in Charles Town, his Parole for a Certificate of his being a good Subject, returned to the Country, and carried off the whole Battalion to join General Sumpter at Catawba. We have not, however, on the Whole, lost Ground in that Part of the Country. Turnbull was attacked at Rocky Mount by Sumpter, with about 1200 Men, Militia and Refugees, from this Province, whom he repulsed with great Loss: We had on our Part an Officer killed, and one wounded. Colonel Turnbull's Conduct was very meritorious. The Affair of Captain Huck turned out of less Consequence than it appeared at first: The Captain and three Men of the Legion were killed, and seven Men of the New-York Volunteers taken. On the Eastern Part of the Province, Major M'Arthur, seeing the great Importance of the Post at Chiraw Hill, and finding himself perfectly secure from any Attack of the Enemy, desired to continue there longer than it was intended he should, when I had the Honour of writing to you on the 15th. At last, however, the 71st Regiment grew so exceedingly sickly, that he found it absolutely necessary to move; and marched on the 24th to the East Branch of Linche's Creek. Gates, who has taken the Command of de Kalbe's Corps, was still on Deep River; and Rutherford no farther advanced than Rocky River, Pedee. Knowing of no Enemy within many Miles, he ventured to send about 100 Sick in Boats down the Pedee to George Town. Colonel Mills, who commanded the Militia of the Chiraw District, though a very good Man, had not complied with my Instructions in forming his Corps; but had placed more Faith in Oaths and Professions, and attended less to the former Conduct of those he admitted. The Instant this Militia found that M'Arthur had left his Post, and were assured that Gates would come there the next Day, they seized their own Officers, and the Hundred Sick, and carried them all Prisoners into North Carolina. Colonel Mills with Difficulty made his Escape to George-Town. The Wheat Harvest in North Carolina is now over; but the Weather is still excessively hot; and, notwithstanding our utmost Exertions, a great Part of the Rum, Salt, Cloathing, and Necessaries for the Soldiers, and the Arms for the Provincials, and Ammunition for the Troops, are not very far advanced on their Way to Camden. However, if no material Interruption happens, this Business will be nearly accomplished in a fortnight or three Weeks.

Our Assurances of Attachment from our distressed Friends in North Carolina are as strong as ever. And the Patience and Fortitude with which those unhappy People bear the most oppressive and cruel Tyranny that ever was exercised over any Country, deserve our greatest Admiration.

Admiralty-Office, September 30, 1780.

CAPTAIN Orde, of His Majesty's Ship the Virginia, arrived at this Office the 25th Instant from North America, with Dispatches from Vice-Admiral Arbuthnot, of which the following are Extracts.

Europe, Gardiner's Island Bay, August 9, 1780.

IN my Letter of the 3d of July last, I had the Honour to inform you of the Arrival of the Robutt and Pearl from Halifax, and that Dispositions were made to receive the French Fleet should it arrive before Rear Admiral Graves; if otherwise, to put his Reinforcement in immediate Order for Service, to enable me to meet or pursue it.

On the 8th, the Triton and Guadalupe, which had been on the Look-out, returned with Intelligence that they had fallen in with the Enemy's Squadron on the 5th; that its Force consisted of Eight Ships of the Line and Frigates, and that it appeared to be steering to the Delaware.

On the 13th following Rear-Admiral Graves arrived at Sandy Hook with Six Ships of the Line, having left the Amphitrite with a French East Indiaman he had captured in his Way; and having landed the Sick, which were immediately replaced by Volunteers from the Ships in the Harbour, and their Water and Provisions being soon compleated, I passed the Bar with the Europe, Robutt, Reasonable and Renown, on the 17th, and having received Intelligence that the Enemy had arrived at Rhode Island, I lost no Time in proceeding with the Squadron off that Place, and arrived there on the 22d. The Enemy appeared to have several considerable Encampments on the Shore, and had moored the Ships and Frigates in a Line extending from Rose Island to the Conanicut Shore.

In the mean Time the Blonde and Galatea were left with Orders to bring the Transports under their Convoy from New York, should the General judge an Attempt on Rhode Island to be warrantable. I remained at Anchor off Block Island until the 4th, when the Troops, which had embarked at Huntington Bay, being ordered on Shore, I proceeded to this Bay on the 6th, to procure Refreshments and to compleat our Water; and the Moment this is done, I shall resume my Station off Newport. Even here I am ready, at an Instant, eventually to co-operate with the Army, or to pursue the Enemy, as Opportunity and Occasion may offer or require.

The Coast is in the mean Time lined with Cruizers, every Frigate and Sloop I have being at Sea.

As their Lordships will undoubtedly be anxious to be informed, respecting our Situation, I dispatch the Virginia with this; and I desire to mention Captain Orde to their Lordships as an Officer of great Merit.

Europe, off Martha's Vineyard, August 25, 1780.

I Have been induced to detain the Virginia some Days longer than I at first intended, in the Hope that I might have some decisive Event to communicate to their Lordships.

But the Enemy still continue at Newport; the Report of an expected Reinforcement is yet current, and their Determination appears to remain inactive until they shall be strengthened.

I left Gardiner's Island Bay the 17th Instant; and having cruized with the Squadron for eight Days between Nantucket Shoals and the East End of Long Island, I anchored here Yesterday, and am ready to act as Events may point out. Every Wind that enables the Enemy to sail from Rhode Island, is fair to me: They cannot move, but I must have instant Notice of it.
