Published by Authority.

From Tuesday, November 12, to Saturday, November, 16 1811

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty.

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE P. R.

WHEREAS the Parliament stands prorogued to Tuesday the Twelfth Day of this instant November, We, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the Advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, do hereby publish and declare, that the said Parliament shall be further prorogued on the said Twelfth Day of this instant November, to Tuesday the Seventh Day of January next; and We have given Order to the Lord High Chancellor of that Part of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland called Great Britain, to prepare a Commission for proroguing the same accordingly. And We do further hereby, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the Advice aforesaid, publish and declare, that the said Parliament shall, on the said Seventh Day of January next, be held and sit for the Dispatch of divers urgent and important Affairs; and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, and the Commissioners for Shires and Burghs of the House of Commons, are hereby required and commanded to give their Attendance accordingly, at Westminster, on the said Seventh Day of January next.

Given at the Court at Whitehall, the Eighth Day of November One thousand eight hundred and eleven, in the Fifty-second Year of His Majesty's Reign.

GOD save the KING.

AT the Court at Whitehall, the 8th of November 1811,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS the Time limited by the Order of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in Council, bearing Date the Eighth Day of February last, for the Payment of the Bounties for the Encouragement of Seamen and Landmen to enter into His Majesty's Royal Navy, and the Rewards for discovering Seamen who may conceal themselves, so that such Seamen should be taken for His Majesty's Service, and also the Rewards to Persons who should procure the voluntary Service of Able and Ordinary Seamen and Landmen fit for His Majesty's Naval Service, and should convey such Seamen and Landmen on board any of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels, or to any of His Majesty's Sea Officers employed in raising Men, will expire on the Thirty-first Day of December next, which Bounties and Rewards are as follows; that is to say, To every Able Seaman, not above the Age of Fifty nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should enter himself to serve in His Majesty's Royal Navy, a Bounty of Five Pounds; and to every Ordinary Seaman so entering himself, and not above the Age of Fifty nor under the Age of Twenty Years, a Bounty of Two Pounds Ten Shillings; to every Able-bodied Landman, not above the Age of Thirty-five nor under the Age of Eighteen Years, so entering himself, a Bounty of Thirty Shillings; to every Person or Persons who shall discover any Able or Ordinary Seaman or Seamen who may have concealed him or themselves, so that such Seaman or Seamen shall be taken for His Majesty's Service by any of His Majesty's Officers employed to raise Men, a Reward of Three Pounds for every such Able Seaman, and Fifty Shillings for every such Ordinary Seaman fit to serve on board His Majesty's Ships; to any Person or Persons who shall procure the voluntary Service of Able or Ordinary Seamen or Landmen fit for His Majesty's Service, and shall convey them on board any of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels, or to any of His Majesty's Sea Officers employed in raising Men, a Reward of Three Guineas for every such Able Seaman, Two Guineas for every such Ordinary Seaman, and One Guinea for every such Landman, together with an Allowance at the Rate of One Penny per Mile for each Able Seaman, Ordinary Seaman, and Landman, for every Mile such Men may respectively travel to the nearest of His Majesty's Ships of War, or nearest Place of Residence of any of His Majesty's Sea Officers employed in raising Men, provided such Man shall be found fit for His Majesty's Service, and there shall not be Reason to suppose that he is an Apprentice: And whereas it is expedient, that the said several Bounties, Rewards, and travelling Allowance should be continued to be paid for some Time longer; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the Advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, doth therefore order, and it is hereby accordingly ordered, that the Payment of the said Bounties, Rewards, and travelling Allowance be continued to the Thirty-first Day of December One thousand eight hundred and twelve, inclusive; and that the same be paid in the Manner specified in His Majesty's several Proclamations now in force for the Encouragement of Seamen and Landmen to enter into His Majesty's Royal Navy, and for the discovering Seamen who may conceal themselves, and for giving Rewards for procuring the voluntary Service of Seamen and Landmen; whereof all Persons concerned are to take Notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Copies of Two Letters from Commodore Penrose to John Wilson Croker, Esq; dated at Gibraltar the 22d and 25th of last Month.

SIR, San Juan, Gibraltar, Oct. 22, 1811.

I REQUEST you to inform their Lordships, that Yesterday Morning the French Army quitted St. Roque about Half-past Seven, the Advance having left Los Barrios about Three.

They took the Road towards Ximenes, and the last Intelligence was, that the Advance of General Ballasteros' Cavalry were keeping Sight of their Rear. I take the Opportunity of the Scout (without delaying her) to give you this Information.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) C. V. PENROSE.

SIR, San Juan, Gibraltar, Oct. 25, 1811

THE Scout being put back, owing to the Westerly Winds, and carrying away her Main-Boom in a Squall, I take the Opportunity of enclosing a further Return of Arrivals and Sailings, and state of Ships in the Bay, and to request you to inform their Lordships, that the French Army which lately appeared here, is again divided to the several Parts from whence it was assembled, after General Ballasteros, who followed the Enemy with great Judgement and Gallantry, had gained a considerable Advantage over their Rear-Guard, on the 22d, taking several Prisoners and some Baggage.

It appears that the French, uneasy at the active Zeal of Ballasteros, and at our Works on the Island of Tarrifa, assembled their Force in the Hopes to crush him before his Preparations were advanced, and also to seize Tarrifa before we were prepared for Resistance, and that want of Wine and Grain, owing perhaps to the Haste of assembling, obliged them to retreat.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) C. V. PENROSE.

Copies of Two Letters and their Inclosures from Captain Schomberg, of His Majesty's Ship the Astræa, addressed to Captain Beaver, of the Nisus, Senior Officer at the Isle of France, and transmitted by the latter to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Ship Astræa, off Foul Point SIR, Madagascar, May 21, 1811.

I HAD the Honour of communicating to you, from off Round Island, my Determination to quit that Station, in order to follow the Three Enemy's Frigates with Troops on board, which had appeared off Mauritius on the 7th Instant, and also my Reasons for supposing they would push for a near Point, perhaps Tamatave.

I have now the Satisfaction to report to you, that the Enemy were discovered on the Morning of the 20th Instant, far to Windward, and well in with the Land, near Foul Point, Madagascar. The Signal to chase was promptly obeyed by His Majesty's Ships Phœbe, Galatea, and Racehorse Sloop. The Weather was most vexatiously variable during the whole of the Day, which, combined with the Efforts of the Enemy to keep to Windward, rendered it impossible to close them until nearly Four o'Clock, when (the Astræa being about a Mile a-head and to Windward) they wore together, kept away, and evinced a Disposition to bring us to Action. The Enemy then commenced firing; I regret to say, at a long Range, which soon so effectually produced a Calm to Leeward, as to render our Squadron unmanageable for Three Hours. No Exertion was omitted to bring His Majesty's Ships into close Action, during this very critical and trying Period; but all was ineffectual. The Enemy's Rear Frigate heared the Astræa a little, who lay on the Water, almost immoveable; only occasionally bringing Guns to bear, while his Van and Centre Ship, preserving a light Air, succeeded in rounding the Quarter of the Phœbe and Galatea, raking them with considerable Effect, for a long Time.

At this, his favourite Distance, the Enemy remained until nearly dark, when a light Air enabled the Phœbe to close the near Frigate, in a good Position to bring her to a decisive Action. In Half an Hour she was beaten. Her Night Signals drew the other Two Frigates to her Assistance, the Phœbe was in consequence obliged to follow the Galatea, which Ship brought up the Breeze to me. At this Time I was hailed by Captain Losack, who informed me that the Galatea had suffered very considerably, and as she was passing under my Lee, I had the Mortification to see her Mizzen, and soon after, her Foretop-Masts fall. Having shot a-head, she made the Night Signal of Distress, and being in want of immediate Assistance, I closed to ascertain the Cause, when I was again hailed by Captain Losack, and informed that the Galatea was so totally disabled as to prevent her Head being put towards the Enemy to renew the Action, as I before had directed.

My Determination was immediately communicated to Captain Hillyar to recommence Action, when the Phœbe was in a State to support me. She promptly reported ready, although much disabled. The Astræa then wore, and led towards the Enemy, followed by the Racehorse and Phœbe; the Conduct of which Ship, as a British Man of War, did Honour to all on board. The Enemy was soon discovered a little a-head, and his leading Ship, the Commodore, was brought to close Action by the Astræa. In Twenty-five Minutes she struck, made the Signal to that Effect; having previously attempted to lay us athwart Hawse, under a heavy Fire of Grape and Musketry from all Parts of the Ship. Another Frigate, on closing, struck, and made the Signal also; but on a Shot being fired at her, from her late Commodore, she was observed trying to escape. Chace was instantly given, and continued till Two o'Clock in the Morning, with all the Sail both Ships were enabled, from their disabled State, to carry; when I judged it advisable, as she gained on us, to wear for the Purpose of covering the captured Ship, and forming a Line, (if possible) with the Galatea. At this Moment, the Phœbe's Foretop-Masts fell: Sight of the Galatea or captured Ship was not regained until Day-light, when to the Credit of Lieutenants Roger (Second of the Astræa) and Drury (R. M.) who with Five Men were all that could be put on board the latter in a sinking Boat, she was observed making an Effort to join us, a perfect Wreck.

The captured Frigate proves to be La Renommée, of the First Class (as are the other Two), of Forty-four Guns, and Four Hundred and Seventy Men (Two Hundred of whom were picked Troops), commanded by Capitaine de Vaisseau (with Commodore's Rank) Roguebert, Officier de la Legion d'Honneur, who fell when gallantly fighting his Ship. The Senior Officer of the Troops, Colonel Barrois, Membre de la Legion d'Honneur, is dangerously wounded. The Ship that struck and escaped, was La Clorinde; the one disabled by the

No. 16540.

Phoebe, La Nereide, having each Two Hundred Troops on board, besides their Crews.

This Squadron escaped from Brest on the Night of the 2d February, and was destined to reinforce Mauritius, having Arms and various other warlike Stores on board.

I beg to apologize for so lengthened a Detail; but few Actions have been fought under such a Variety of peculiarly trying and vexatious Difficulties. I am, however, called upon by my Feelings and a Sense of my Duty, to bear Testimony to the meritorious Conduct of the Officers and Ships Companies of His Majesty's Ships Phoebe and Astraea. To the Discipline of the former I attribute much; but as Captain Hillyar's Merit as an Officer is so generally, and, by you, so particularly appreciated, it is needless for me to comment on it, further than to observe, that the Separation of the Galatea was amply compensated by the Exertion manifested in the Conduct of the Ship he had the Honour to command.

To the Officers, Seamen, and Marines of the Astraea, I am for ever indebted; their cool and steady Conduct when in close Action with the Enemy, and on Fire in several Places from his Wadding, merits my Admiration (particularly having been so recently formed). A Difference in the personal Exertion of each Officer, was not distinguishable; but I cannot allow the Efforts and Judgement of Lieutenant John Baldwin, First of this Ship, to pass without particular Eulogium; I received the greatest Assistance from him, and also from Mr. Nelson, the Master.

The Moment the Phoebe and Astraea are in a State to get to Windward, the Prisoners exchanged, and La Reconnue rendered Sea-worthy, I shall proceed to Tamatave for further Information, as I have Reason to think it in Possession of the Enemy.

I have the Honour to transmit Returns of the Killed and Wounded on board His Majesty's Ships. The Loss on board La Reconnue is excessive—One Hundred and Forty-five Killed and wounded. Galatea having parted Company, no Return.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

N. B. Transmitted by Captain Beaver, of the Nisus.

His Majesty's Ship Astræa, at Anchor, Tamatave, Madagascar, May 26, 1811.

SIR,
 IN my Letter of the 20th Instant, detailing the Action between His Majesty's Ships under my Orders and those of the Enemy, I had the Honour to inform you that it was my Intention to reconnoitre this Port, as I had received Information that the Enemy had landed and surprised the Garrison, on his first Arrival on the Coast.

The State of His Majesty's Ships Astræa and Phœbe, did not admit of their beating up quickly against the Currents and very variable Winds; the Racehorse Sloop was therefore dispatched in advance, to summon the Garrison of Tamatave to immediately surrender.

On the Evening of the 25th Instant Captain De Rippe rejoined me, reporting his having seen a large Frigate anchored in that Port; a strong Gale prevented His Majesty's Ships from getting in Sight of her until the Afternoon of the 27th Instant, when every Thing was ready to force the Anchorages; I stood in and observed an Enemy's Frigate, placed in a most advantageous Position within the Reefs of the Port, for the Purpose of enfilading the narrow Passage between them, supported by a strong Fort in her Van, within Half Musket-Shot, full of Troops; there were also new Works in forwardness, to flank the Anchorage.

Not having any body of local Knowledge in either of His Majesty's Ships, and it being almost impracticable to sound the Passage between the Reefs, which was intricate, and completely exposed to the whole concentrated Fire of the Enemy within Grape-Distance, I judged it expedient, under existing Circumstances (both Ships being full of Prisoners, and having a Proportion of Men absent in La Renommée, besides Sick and Wounded), to defer until necessary, risking His Majesty's Ships.

I therefore summoned the Garrison and Frigate to immediately surrender; when, after the usual Intercourse of Flag of Truce, I have the Honour to inform you, that the Fort of Tamatave, its Dependencies, the Frigate and Vessels in the Port, together with the late Garrison (a Detachment of the 22d Regiment), were surrendered to, and taken Possession of, by His Majesty's Ships under my Orders.

I was induced to grant the Terms (a Copy of which, together with the Summons, and Answer thereto, I have the Honour to inclose), in order to prevent the Destruction of the Fort of Tamatave, the Frigate, and Vessels—a Measure they intended to adopt.

The Enemy's Frigate proves to be La Nereide (one of the finest, only Two Years old), of Forty-four Guns, and Four Hundred and Seventy Men (Two Hundred of whom are choice Troops), commanded by Capitaine le Maresquier, Membre de la Legion d'Honneur, who fell in the Action of the 20th Instant, in which she suffered very considerably, having had One Hundred and Thirty Men killed and wounded. She was much engaged by the Phœbe.

The Crew of La Nereide, together with the French Garrison of Tamatave, I intend sending to the Mauritius as soon as possible, Fifty excepted, who are too severely wounded to survive Removal. The whole Detachment of His Majesty's 22d Regiment retaken, being ill of the endemic Fever of this Country, I mean to embark on board the Nereide, so soon as she is in a State to receive them; when, after having dismantled the Fort, and embarked the Guns, &c. I shall proceed with her under Convoy to the Mauritius, in Company with the Phoebe.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

Captain Beaver, His Majesty's Ship Nisus,
Senior Officer at the Isle of France.

His Britannic Majesty's Ship Astræa,
SIR, off Tamatave, 25th May 1811.

La Nereide has been defended in a brave Manner; La Renouance and Corinde have struck after a brave Defence, in which Captain Roquebert fell, and Major Barrois was severely wounded; I therefore call upon you, for the sake of Humanity, to surrender immediately to His Britannic Majesty's Ships under my Orders.

Nothing can justify an unnecessary Effusion of Blood; I hope in consequence to have an immediate Answer.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

To the Officer commanding the French
Frigate Nereide.

(TRANSLATION.)

On board His Imperial Majesty's Frigate Nereide,
SIR, Tamatave, 25th May 1811.

I AM, as well as yourself, able to estimate the Situation in which I am placed. It is flattering to me to have deserved your Praises, by my Defence of the Ship which His Imperial Majesty has been pleased to entrust to my Charge. I shall endeavour to preserve her for his Service; or, if I am compelled to yield, not to do so ingloriously. I am sensible of the Weight of the Proposals you are pleased to make to me; but I must observe to you, Sir, that it would be dishonourable for me to accept them. I should also be desirous to save the Effusion of Blood; but my Duty as an Officer precedes my Duty as a Man. The following, Sir, are therefore the only and unalterable Conditions I can accede to:—I desire that my Staff, my Ship's Company, and the Troops, shall have the certain Assurance of returning to their own Country, without being made Prisoners of War. The wounded shall remain at Tamatave, to be there taken Care of by a French Surgeon. The Fort and the Frigate shall, upon these Terms, be delivered up to you; they are the only Terms I can accept; I trust you will feel how painful it is to me to propose them; and if you are really governed by the Dictates of Humanity, you will also feel that any other would be dishonourable.

Whatever may be your Intentions, Sir, be assured that my Conduct, whether as an Officer or as a Man, will always have for its Object to command your Esteem.

With the Assurance of my high Consideration,
SIR, &c. (Signed) PONEY.
To the Commander of the English Squadron.

ARTICLES of CAPITULATION entered into between Charles Marsh Schomberg, Esq; Captain of His Britannic Majesty's Ship Astræa, &c. and Monsieur Poney, Lieutenant de Vaisseau, Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur, and Capitaine Commandant of the French Frigate Nereide, at Tamatave, 26th May 1811.

Article I. The Nereide Frigate, together with all the Vessels and Property at Tamatave, the Fort, &c. of the said Place, shall be surrendered without Injury to His Britannic Majesty's Ships under my Command.

Art. II. The Officers, Crews, and Troops, now actually at Tamatave or on board the Nereide, shall be sent as soon as possible to the Mauritius, and from thence be conveyed to France without being considered as Prisoners of War; the Officers and Petty Officers only shall keep their Swords.

Art. III. The wounded shall remain at Tamatave under the Care of a French Surgeon, until they are recovered, when they shall be sent to France by the first Opportunity.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Gordon, of His Majesty's Ship the Active, addressed to Captain Maxwell, of the Alceste, senior Officer at Lissa, and transmitted by Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Pellew to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Ship Active, at Anchor off the SIR, Town of Ragosniza, July, 27, 1811.

I HAVE great Pleasure, in informing you that the Boats of His Majesty's Ship under my command, with the Small-arm Men and Royal Marines, the whole under the Command of Lieutenant Henderson, (First of this Ship), were detached on the Ship's anchoring here, in Order to attack a Convoy which had ran above the Island that the Town of Ragosniza stands upon, and had taken shelter in a Creek on the Main. From the narrowness of the Entrance, and Three Gun-Boats protecting it, with a Number of armed Men on each Point, Lieutenant Henderson was induced to land with the Small-Arm Men and Marines, on the Right, in Order to take Possession of a Hill which appeared to command the Creek, leaving the Boats under Command of Lieutenant Gibson, to push for the Gun-Boats the Moment a concerted Signal was made from the Top of the Hill. On Lieutenant Henderson and his Party gaining the Top of the Hill, (after dislodging several Soldiers who fired upon them during their Ascent), he found himself immediately above the Gun-Boats and a Convoy of Twenty-eight Sail, he then made the Signal for the Boats to advance, at the same Time descended the Hill, exposed to the Fire of One of the Gun-Boats and several Soldiers; but the Attack was so well planned, and so nobly executed, that the Boats hoarded the Gun-Boats, after the Party which landed had only fired Two Volleys into them. The Enemy finding themselves attacked so warmly, fled in all Directions, leaving behind them a Number of Killed and Wounded. The Crews of the Gun-Boats (all but Three Men), jumping overboard, and getting on Shore as our Boats boarded. The Guns were immediately turned on the Flying Lascary, and the Boats took Possession of the whole Convoy. Eighteen of which were brought out with the Gun-Boats, and Ten more burnt, and I am happy to say without the Loss of a Man on our Part; Four only were wounded in the Boats.

Lieutenant Henderson (whose gallant Conduct on this and many other Occasions since the Ship has been employed in the Adriatic, makes it a Duty incumbent upon me to beg you will recommend him in the strongest Manner to the Commander in Chief) speaks in the highest Terms of the Assistance he received from Lieutenant George Haye (who, though an Invalid, very handsomely volunteered), Lieutenant Mears (Royal Marines), and Mr. Charles Friend (Master's-Mate), who landed with him. Lieutenant Gibson (who gallantly led the Boats to the Attack) speaks in Praise of every Man and Officer, whose Names I beg Leave to state to you, as I trust you will recommend them to the Notice of the Commander in Chief, Messrs. Henry Lew, Edmund Moriarty, Norwich Duff, William Simpkins, Joseph Combelliere, Nathaniel Barwell, Charles Bentham, George Moore, William Wood, and William Todd Robinson, Midshipmen.

I am informed by the Prisoners, and several Persons whom I have just seen, that the Convoy arrived here the Evening before, chiefly laden with Grain for the Garrison at Ragusa, and were defended on Shore by Three Hundred Armed Men, which, considering the Force opposed to a Ship's Boats, is a Proof that every Officer and Man did his Duty like a British Seaman. I shall proceed to join you at Lissa with the Prizes, the Moment they are put in Order.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

Murray Maxwell, Esq. Captain of His

Extract of a Letter from Captain Nicholas, of His Majesty's Sloop Pilot, addressed to Rear-Admiral Boyles, and transmitted by Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Pellew to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Sloop Pilot, Syracuse,
September 11, 1811.

I DO myself the Honour of reporting to you, that early on the Morning of the 6th Instant, an Armed Ketch was observed to be secured to the Walls of the Castle of Castellar, and that in order to bring her out or destroy her, His Majesty's Sloop was immediately anchored close before the Town, so as to drive the Troops, that were collected for her Protection, from their different Positions, and having partly accomplished it, Lieutenant Alexander Campbell pushed off with the Boats, and with great Gallantry effected a Landing under the Ruins of the Castle, and then with some Opposition advanced to the Town, from whence the few Troops that remained there, precipitately fled. Finding the Ketch was bilged, he hoisted her Guns (Six Six-Pounders) overboard, and set her on fire. Having now full Possession of Castellar, he stationed the Marines in the Castle, and began to ship off as much Grain and Flax as our Boats could convey to the Sloop, before a Reinforcement of the Enemy would oblige us to evacuate it; and I have the Pleasure of saying, that we got on board about Fifteen Tons of Corn, and a Quantity of Flax, by Four o'Clock; when they made their Appearance with about One Hundred Regular Troops, Twenty-five of whom were Dragoons; but as we saw them early from our Mast-Head, our People embarked from the Castle by Signal, just as the Enemy entered the Town; and I have now, Sir, peculiar Satisfaction in adding, that this has been accomplished without the smallest Loss on our Part.

Admiralty-Office, November 16, 1811.

VICE-ADMIRAL SIR EDWARD PELLEW has transmitted to John Wilson Croker, Esq. a Letter from Captain Down, of His Majesty's Sloop Redwing, giving an Account of his having on the 16th of September, captured off Maritimo, Le Victorieux French Privateer, of Four Guns and Forty Men, Three Days from Tunis, without having made any Capture.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Boxer, of His Majesty's Sloop Skylark, addressed to Rear-Admiral Foley, and transmitted by the Letter to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Sloop Skylark, in the Downs,
November 11, 1811.

I HAVE the Honour to inform you, that at Eight o'Clock Yesterday Morning, (Cape Grisnez bearing S. S. W. Distance Seven Miles), I observed a Division of the Enemy's Flotilla, consisting of Twelve Gun-Brigs, standing along Shore to the Eastward, it then blowing a strong Wind from the Southward; His Majesty's Sloop under my Command made all Sail in Chase; during the Morning had the Satisfaction to see His Majesty's Gun-Brig Locust in Shore to Windward standing towards the Enemy, between Gravelines and Calais; I have to inform you that One of the Enemy's Gun-Brigs, No. 26, of Four Twenty-four Pounders and Sixty Men, commanded by Enseigne de Vaisseau Boucher, has been cut out under the Fire of the Batteries and Musketry from the Beach, and close to the Rest of the Flotilla, who had taken Shelter in the Roads of Calais. The Commodore of the Flotilla was driven on Shore; an Attempt was made to bring him out also, but finding a great Number of Troops had got on board from Calais, I relinquished the Attack.

It is impossible for me to speak too highly of the Conduct of Lieutenant Gedge, Commander of the Locust, who from being in Shore to Windward was the principal Cause of the Vessel being taken, and during the Whole of the Attack on the Flotilla, exposed as we were for Four Hours to the Fire of the Enemy's Batteries, deserves my highest Praise and Recommendation; and I beg Leave to add that the Officers and Crew of the Skylark conducted themselves to my entire Satisfaction.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

JAMES BOXER.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Willes, of His Majesty's Sloop the Leveret, addressed to Vice-Admiral Murray, at Yarmouth, and transmitted by the latter to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Sloop Leveret, Yarmouth-SJR, Roads, November 12, 1811.

I HAVE the Honour to inform you, that His Majesty's Sloop under my Command captured, on the 10th Instant, after a Chace of Three Hours, the Texel bearing S. S. E. Seventy Miles, the French Cutter Privateer Le Dunkerquois, formerly in the Service of the British Revenue, mounting Fourteen Carriage-Guns, manned with Thirty-six Men, and commanded by Peter Francis Degardine, a Lieutenant of the French Navy; she had sailed the Day before from Amsterdam, stored and provisioned for a Month's Cruise, and was in the Act of capturing one of the scattered Convoy from the Baltic, bound to London with Timber and Hemp.

I have the Honour to be, &c.
