SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1821.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by His Lordship to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.
Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful and devoted subjects, Members of the Loyal Wellington Club, established in the Town of Stockport, in the County Palatine of Chester, in honour of the great Captain of the Age, and upon the principles of "Patriotism and Friendship," most humbly beg leave to approach the Throne with assurances of our most affectionate attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person, and of our unshaken loyalty and allegiance to your Government.

We feel ourselves called upon thus to address your Majesty at a time when a daring faction is, in peculiar activity, striving to poison the minds of your Majesty's subjects, with sentiments of hatred and contempt for every thing that they ought as Britons to hold dear and sacred. The chief engine employed for this detestable purpose is a seditious press, which, by the most malignant insinuations or the most audacious calumnies, by artful sophistry or by open falsehood, has laboured to annihilate the confidence so long and so justly reposed in the integrity of our Magistrates, the piety of our Clergy, the honour and wisdom of Parliament, and the paternal mildness and constitutional liberality of your Majesty's Councils.

We are anxious to assure your Majesty that we feel, as we believe a vast majority of our fellow subjects feels, the utmost scorn and detestation of these base endeavours to circumvert the unwary and to deceive the uninformed. We retain, unimpaired by all such machinations, our deliberate sense of the manifold blessings which, under Providence, we have derived from a Constitution, the envy and wonder of the world; administered as that Constitution has now been for above a century by your Majesty and your illustrious Ancestors, on the same principles which first seated the House of Brunswick on the Throne of these realms.

We are sensible, that the attacks ostensibly levelled against our public men are really meant to subvert our public institutions, and to bring about a complete revolution in the establishments and property of the kingdom; but we are resolved to the utmost of our power to oppose the progress of such evil principles; we hold ourselves in readiness to support the due execution of the laws; and we devoutly offer up to the Throne of Grace our fervent prayers, that your Majesty's reign may be long, glorious and happy.

[Transmitted by Viscount Bulkeley.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates of the County Palatine of Chester, assembled at the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace for the said County, held this day at the Castle of Chester, beg leave to approach your Throne with expressions of attachment to your Royal Person, and of our unshaken reverence for the Government of these realms, as established in King, Lords and Commons; as well as of our resolution to defend them, with all our powers, against all traitorous designs and attempts whatsoever; ready to take alarm at any danger that may threaten things so dear and precious, we deem this to be a time when the declaration of this resolution, and the expression of these sentiments is demanded from us; and we tender them to your Majesty in this address with the most heartfelt sincerity, and with the warmest wishes for the continuance and prosperity of your Majesty's reign, and in the hope of handing down to our posterity the blessings of that Government, whole and unimpaired.

Wm. Walford, Chairman.

Castle of Chester, January 9, 1821.

[Delivered by the County Members.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Grand Jury assembled at the Sessions of the Peace for the County of Chester, held at the Castle of Chester, on the 9th day of January 1821, being prevented from attending the County Meeting held at Northwich this day, beg leave to approach your Throne, at this momentous period, to declare our firm attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, our unalterable veneration for the glorious Constitution, handed down to us by the wisdom of our ancestors, and our earnest desire that it may be transmitted unimpaired to our latest posterity.

That your Majesty may continue to reign over us in health and happiness, is the fervent prayer of your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects.

Saml. Bromfield, Foreman.

[Delivered by the County Members.]

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's very dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Irvine, in Council assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your Majesty and to renew the expression of our unfeigned attachment to and veneration for your Majesty's sacred Person.

While, with feelings of the most sincere regret, we deplore the disaffection which has been produced in the minds of many of your Majesty's subjects, by the nefarious efforts of seditious and unprincipled men, we at the same time are fully assured of the firm and unshaken loyalty of the great body of the people, and we rely with confidence on the wisdom of your Majesty's Councils, for the adoption of such measures as may be instrumental, in delivering our country from every danger.

We beg leave to assure your Majesty, that it is our fixed and determined resolution to support and maintain our free and invaluable Constitution, as established in Church and State, against every attempt that may be made to violate or infringe the same.

May your Majesty long live to reign over a free, loyal, virtuous and happy people.

Signed, in our name and by our appointment, and the common seal of the Burgh affixed, at the council table of the Burgh of Irvine, this 13th day of January 1821.

A. Montgomerie, Provost.

[Delivered by Lieut.-Genl. Jas. Montgomerie, M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Inhabitants of the Town of Wincanton, in the County of Somerset, and its Vicinity, beg to approach your Majesty with a declaration of our unshaken loyalty to your Majesty's sacred Person, and attachment to the Laws and Constitution of these realms.

We perceive with unfeigned regret the efforts which have been successfully made to mislead the public mind, by artful and designing persons, who have fomented and encouraged a spirit of faction and disobedience to the laws. The Altar, the Throne and the highest Tribunals of the country have been vilified; and unqualified countenance and encouragement afforded to those immoralities and vices which, in better times, have been deservedly held up to public scorn and detestation.

We are not in the habit, Sire, of offering ourselves to the notice of the Throne, but when misrepresentation and clamour have been resorted to with so much success, we feel that our silence would be almost criminal, and might be construed into an acquiescence with views and principles which we reprobate and condemn.

But we trust, Sire, the effects of misrepresentation are fast subsiding, that those parts of the country where such deceptions have prevailed will be undeceived, and again acquire that high character for a dutiful submission to the laws, loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, and regard and veneration for religion and morality, for which the nation at large has long been so justly distinguished.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the undersigned, your Majesty's dutiful subjects, Inhabitants of the Town of Bruton and its Vicinity, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of sincere loyalty and attachment; we lament, in common with every well wisher to his country, the evil attempts of designing men to alienate the affections of the people from your Majesty's Person and Government; it is impossible not to have observed the existence of a faction in this kingdom, who, abusing the privileges they enjoy under a free Constitution, would turn liberty into licentiousness, shake social order to its foundations, and throw the State into confusion under the specious plea of reform. The late distress of a great part of our population has been too favourable to the designs of those who would introduce disorder among us: taking advantage of these circumstances they have deluded the ignorant and unwary as to the real causes of their sufferings, in order to excite in them discontent and disaffection; whilst by a wide and active dissemination of infidelity and blasphemy and all the incentives to sedition, which a corrupt and licentious press has not failed to supply, they have been labouring to root out religion from the mind, to debase the morals of the lower orders of the community, to inflame them to insurrection and tumult, and thereby render them fit instruments for their projected schemes of revolution.

Recent occurrences have unbappily afforded another occasion to these disturbers of the public peace, and in this instance the baseness of the spirit that actuates them has been most conspicuous; and we have seen, with feelings of detestation and disgust, the Throne insulted, the Church held up to contempt, and the constituted Authorities reviled by open invective and abuse.

At such a moment, however, it is gratifying to us to observe, that the sound and loyal part of your Majesty's subjects have begun to raise their voice, and we rejoice to find in the numerous addresses to your Majesty, which are now issuing from every part of the kingdom, the strongest assurances of attachment to your Majesty's Person, and a steady determination to uphold the laws and protect our civil and religious institutions.

We most cordially join in this general expression of loyal and constitutional feeling, and beg to lay this proof of our allegiance and fidelity at the foot of the Throne. We are persuaded that the great body of the nation is finally attached to the Monarchy and the Constitution, and we trust, under the blessing of Divine Providence, that the patriotism and the virtue of the country, will silence the clamour and defeat the efforts of the disaffected.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentry, Clergy, Yeomanry and others of the Towns of Highworth, and Swindon, and their Neighbourhood, in the County of Wilts, beg permission to approach your Majesty's Throne with our assurance of inviolable attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

It is with feelings of horror, not unmingled with indignation, that we perceive every passing event taken hold of by a set of factious demagogues, who, with reformation in their mouths, but with rebellion in their hearts, are striving their utmost to subvert the basis of social order, and thereby to effect a decomposition of the whole mass of civil society.

Nor, together with the rest of our fellow subjects, are we blind to the conviction that the work of sedition is encouraged and assisted by the voice of blasphemy. The same hands would alike pull down the Altar and the Throne, and uplift upon their ruins the frightful form of anarchy and irreligion.

Of these evils, so appalling in their nature, the licentious character of the press appears to us to be the principal cause. Of the liberty of the press we shall never cease to be the fearless advocates; as long as it is restricted to its appropriate limits it is the safe-guard of our rights, but when it oversteps its lawful boundaries, then, as with reference to the present period, it becomes the perverted instrument of wicked designs; this then being in our estimation the very main spring which puts the mischief in motion, we temperately but firmly express our hopes, that such means may be devised as will afford a salutary counterpoise to the weight of an evil, which if not put down itself, will itself put down the constituted Authorities of the land.

We are fully sensible of the blessings we enjoy under our unrivalled Constitution, and conscious that we have received it as a precious inheritance from our forefathers, we feel it to be our interest to preserve it uninjured for ourselves, and we thus publicly avow it to be our duty, as well as our determination to transmit it unimpaired to our descendants.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Hundred of Bosmere and Claydon, in the County of Suffolk, beg to offer to your Majesty the assurance of our dutiful and zealous attachment to your Majesty's sacred Office and Person. We feel ourselves called upon at this perilous time to state, that we view with regret and abhorrence measures brought forward and sentiments declared, the tendency of which is to inflame the passions of the unwary and unenlightened part of our fellow countrymen, mislead their judgment, and thus to aggravate the difficulties with which we are contending.

We view also with similar feelings of regret and abhorrence attempts made by the unexampled licentiousness of the press, to alienate the affections of your Majesty's subjects, from their dutiful allegiance to your Majesty.

But we trust with unshaken confidence to the Laws of our inestimable Constitution, and to the wisdom and justice of Parliament, for the protection of the Altar and the Throne; and we hope, under Divine Providence, your Majesty may long continue to enjoy a prosperous and happy reign over a free and loyal people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Alderman, Recorder, Coroner, Capital Burgesses, Assistant Justices, and Burgesses of the Common Council of the Borough of Bury St. Edmunds, in the County of Suffolk, beg to approach your Majesty with a renewed assurance of our devoted attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

At a period when the country has difficulties of such magnitude to encounter, we feel ourselves called upon to tender to your Majesty our zealous and faithful support. And when wicked men avail themselves of our embarrassments to mislead the judgments and inflame the passions of the people, and to weaken their respect for the Constitution by law established, we consider it our indispensable duty to assure your Majesty, that we look to that Constitution as our best protection; that we have a perfect confidence in the loyalty of the great majority of our fellow subjects, and that we trust (under the blessing of Divine Providence), the exercise of your Majesty's just and lawful Authority, will preserve your kingdom in security and glory.

Given under our common seal, at the Guildhall in the said Borough, this 19th day of January 1821.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the undersigned Magistrates and other Inhabitants of the Hundreds of Thingoe, Thedwastre, Babergh, Blackbourne, within the liberty of Bury Saint Edmunds, in the County of Suffolk, beg to offer to your Majesty the assurance of our dutiful and zealous attachment to your Majesty's sacred office and Person. We feel ourselves called upon at this perilous time to state, that we view with regret and abhorrence measures brought forward and sentiments declared, the tendency of which evidently is to inflame the passions of the unwary and unenlightened part of our fellow countrymen, mislead their judgment, and thus aggravate the difficulties with which we are now contending. We trust, with unshaken confidence to the laws of our inestimable Constitution for the protection of our Altars and the Throne, and we hope, under Divine Providence, your Majesty may long continue to enjoy a prosperous and happy reign over a free and loyal people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Minister and principal Inhabitants of the sequestered Village of Leigh upon Mendip, Somersetshire.

Most Gracious and Beloved Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Minister and principal Inhabitants of the retired and sequestered Village of Leigh upon Mendip, beg leave with becoming reverence to approach your Royal Presence, with this assurance of our sincere and unalterable attachment to your Majesty's most august Person, Family, and Government, and to the glorious Constitution which the blessing of Providence has consigned to us, and under which the inhabitants of these kingdoms have lived free and happy for so many generations.

At a time when artful and designing men are endeavouring to contaminate the public mind, and draw aside the unwary into practices of insubordination and anarchy, it becomes the imperious duty of every good and loyal subject, and well-wisher to the permanence of our Constitution, to rally round the Throne, and express his determined resolution to oppose with all his might every such insidious attempt against your Majesty's Government, and our holy religion.

We therefore humbly beg your Majesty's most gracious acceptance of this solemn declaration of our sentiments at this momentous crisis, being firmly persuaded, that nothing would more certainly deprive us of that real liberty we have so long and so happily enjoyed, as the predominance of those principles which are now so openly avowed and industriously inculcated, and that our strongest reliance for its perpetuity must rest in the continued zeal and integrity of your Majesty's Councils, in preserving unto us unimpaired our most excellent Constitution.

We most fervently beseech the Almighty Disposer of events to frustrate the machinations of the disturbers of the public peace and tranquility, and underminers of our holy faith, that loyalty may triumph over disaffection, and true piety prevail over falsehood and licentiousness, and that your Majesty may long be spared to preside over and defend our civil and religious liberties, reigning in the hearts of a faithful and affectionate people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, Inhabitants and Landholders of the Parish of Stoke next Guildford, in the County of Surrey, beg to approach your Royal Presence to express our reverence of your Majesty's Person, and our veneration of that incomparable Constitution, under which it is our distinguished privilege to live.

In times like the present we feel it our duty to surround the Throne in testimony of our unshaken attachment and loyalty, convinced that our happiness lies in supporting the institutions of our forefathers. Having always held in high admiration the religious and civil rights and liberties, which dawned upon us at the Reformation, were confirmed at the Revolution, and have been transmitted to us by the establishment of your Majesty's Family on the Throne of these kingdoms; we can but reflect with the warmest and most lively sensations of gratitude, that while profaneness and anarchy overspread the moral and political horizon of a neighbouring nation, our favoured isle was happily preserved; and that the recent attempts against our holy religion, and the efforts of the disaffected, by the blessing of God, on the vigilance of your Majesty's Government, have met with a salutary check in the wise administration of the laws of our country. We beg your Majesty to allow us to express a confident hope, that by the wisdom of your Majesty's Councils, under the Providence of God, our beloved country will be defended from whatever might tend to destroy that union, which should subsist between a Sovereign presiding over a free people, and the nation committed to his care.

May there not be wanting to the latest posterity in your Majesty's Family, a Sovereign to wield the Sceptre of these Kingdoms, with that sacred regard to the preservation of those religious and civil rights and liberties which our ancestors have pre-eminently experienced since the accession of your Majesty's House to the Throne of Great Britain; and which we, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, have now the felicity to enjoy, under your Majesty's most gracious reign and protection.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Wigtown, respectfully approach the Throne with renewed and unfeigned assurances of our affectionate attachment and fidelity to your Royal Person, and sincere veneration for the glorious Constitution of this Realm; and to declare our firm and unalterable determination to defend and maintain inviolate the same, with our lives and properties, against all attacks, whether from foreign or intestine enemies.

With heartfelt satisfaction we humbly beg to express to your Majesty our firm persuasion that in this portion of your Majesty's Dominions, there exists neither disloyalty, disregard of the established laws, nor irreligion, the seeds of which, however, we lament to observe, have been attempted to be sown, by the prostitution, in the hands of a few unprincipled men, of that palladium of British liberty, a free press.

We fervently pray that your Majesty's reign may be long and glorious, and we trust that by early attention of the Legislature the distress and embarrassments experienced by all classes at this momentous crisis, may be removed or relieved, and the happiness and prosperity of this great Empire placed on a secure and permanent basis.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal Address of the Rectors, the Churchwardens, and other Inhabitants of the Parishes of Berkhamstead, St. Peter's, and Northchurch, in the County of Hertford.

SIRE,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Rectors, the Churchwardens, and other Inhabitants of the ancient Town and Parish of Berkhamstead and Northchurch, respectfully beg leave, at this important period, to lay before your Majesty, the most cordial assurances of our unshaken fidelity and attachment. Zealously devoted to that pure form of religious worship and Christian doctrine, which have the revealed Word of God for their foundation and support. Faithfully attached to that admirable Constitution, in Church and State, which has been sanctioned by the wisdom of ages, and which extends the blessings of civil freedom and religious toleration to every class of your Majesty's subjects. We have beheld, with the strongest feelings of grief and indignation, the baneful influence of blasphemous and seditious publications, in exciting the wild and wicked attempts of desperate and designing men, to rob us of all that is dear and valuable to us—to destroy our excellent and venerable institutions—and to overwhelm the altar and the Throne, our national glory and prosperity, and our domestic peace and happiness, in one common ruin.

Impressed, Sire, with a deep and painful conviction of these hostile and avowed designs, we are anxious, in this awful crisis of our country, to bear a firm and faithful testimony to our own inviolable allegiance to your Majesty's Person and Authority, to declare our steadfast adherence to our religion and the laws, and our determination to oppose, by every means in our power, the dangers by which they are menaced.

Sire, by the blessing of God, may your Majesty's reign be long and prosperous, over a loyal and united people! and may the Almighty, by his all-directing Providence, enable us to preserve inviolate, the envied and glorious inheritance, we have derived from our ancestors, and transmit it unimpaired to our posterity.

The humble, dutiful, and loyal Address of the principal Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the Hundred of Stratton, in the County of Cornwall.

WE, your Majesty's ever loyal and faithful subjects, beg leave to stand forward with the assurance of our true allegiance to your Majesty, and of our firm attachment to our excellent Constitution in church and state.

Deeply impressed with the high value of the blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's Government, we feel it our duty to express our determination of exerting our best energies in supporting the constituted Authorities of our country, and in discountenancing all blasphemy and sedition.

Our earnest prayer to the Disposer of all events will be for the protection of your Majesty and your dominions from every calamity, and that your Majesty may long continue to reign over a free, bold, and loyal people, for the welfare and happiness of the United Kingdom, and with the admiration of the whole world.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

SIRE,

WE, your Majesty's faithful and dutiful subjects, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices, of the Peace of the County of Argyll, in General Meeting assembled, beg leave to assure your Majesty of our warm attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, our veneration for the Laws, and our affectionate regard for the Constitution of our country.

We had hoped that the demonstrations of loyalty, which so lately resounded from all parts of your Majesty's dominions, would have put to silence the wicked attempts of infidelity and sedition, to extirpate those salutary restraints which religion imposes on the depraved inclinations of man, to inculcate contempt for the laws, and to infuse among the unthinking and unwary a spirit of insubordination, equally dangerous to the lives, the property, and the liberty of your Majesty's subjects.

These hopes have been disappointed.

We observe with regret and indignation, but without dismay, that the same wicked and desperate faction rendered even more daring by the lenity which has been extended towards them, and aided by a licentious abuse of the liberty of the press, still seeks to sap the foundations of religion and genuine patriotism, to excite the populace to a disregard for the constituted Authorities of the State, and to wean them from their allegiance to their Sovereign, by levelling at the Monarchy the most disgusting opprobrium, and by the grossest misrepresentations of the public acts, and private character of the Ministers of religion and justice, and of all who are estimable for their worth, or exemplary for their goodness,

Against such destructive designs and pernicious principles we are resolved to oppose a constant and determined stand.

We have been taught by your Majesty's conscientious regard for the privileges and liberty of your subjects, and by the mild exercise of your royal prerogative, to place a firm reliance on the continuance of those virtues which shed additional lustre round the Throne, and impart greater security to the State.

We are convinced that the great mass of the nation preserve their principles unpolluted; and that they will hold themselves in readiness to second the exertions of Government for the preservation of peace, and of civil order.

As far as our knowledge extends of the inhabitants of the County of Argyll, we are assured that their attachment to their King, and reverence for the Constitution of the country, under which their ancestors and themselves have enjoyed so many blessings, and experienced a greater degree of practical liberty than the history of any other nation can afford, remains unshaken.

To guard and cherish this loyal spirit (each of us in his respective station) to unite our utmost exertions to preserve for ourselves, and to hand down unimpaired to posterity, our ancient and venerable establishments in Church and State and, (should danger threaten it) to be ready to rally round the Throne as protectors and defenders, we hold not only to be our indispensable duty as Christians, but our best interest as British subjects.

Signed in our name and by our appointment, at Inveraray, this 10th day of January 1821, by Sir John Campbell, of Ardnamurchan, our Preses. John Campbell, Preses.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Caithness.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Caithness, feel it to be our bounden duty to express, in the present state of the country, our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Enjoying, in common with all the rest of your Majesty's subjects, the blessings of the British Constitution, we are warmly attached to it; and it is not without indignation that we hear of the endeavours of wicked and designing men, in different parts of your Majesty's dominions, to destroy all reverence for what we consider the noblest monument of human wisdom, and the most perfect of all civil governments,--the envy of other countries, and the glory of our own.

We are deeply sensible of the blessings which have flowed to the country from the liberty of the press: and we cannot, therefore, without the most painful feelings, see so large a portion of it actively and incessantly employed in exciting and spreading among your Majesty's subjects a spirit of irreligion and disloyalty. Publications of such a nature, we firmly believe can make only a temporary impression in any part of your Majesty's dominions; and it is with a peculiar degree of satisfaction that we assure your Majesty, that they have made very little impression in this county, which has always been distinguished for the loyalty and good conduct of its inhabitants. Such, we fondly hope, will always continue to be their character; and we pledge ourselves to do every thing in our power to promote so desirable an object: and in spite of the efforts of impious and seditious men, we trust your Majesty will long reign over a people distinguished not less for their religion and their loyalty, than for their love of freedom.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Council of the Royal Burgh of Whithorn, in Council assembled, humbly beg leave, at this time, to approach your Majesty to express our loyalty, and to declare our sincere attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, and to declare our hatred and detestation to the numberless seditious and blasphemous publications which are said to inundate other parts of the empire, but which are only known to us by name. Yet when your Majesty's Throne is publicly insulted, we should consider ourselves unworthy the inestimable privileges which, as Britons, we enjoy, were we not to come forward to express our loyalty to your Majesty's Person and Government, and our invaluable Constitution, against all attempts that may be made to subvert the same.

We most sincerely wish that your Majesty's reign may be long and prosperous over a free, a loyal, a happy, and united people.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Baillies, Council, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Barony of Charlestown of Aberlour, in the County of Banff, viewing with indignation the treasonable doctrines at this time pub-licely expressed, tending to destroy all subordination to lawful authority, beg leave humbly to approach the Throne with the declaration of our firm and unalterable attachment to the Constitution, and our determination to support the same to the utmost of our ability; and that we will on all occasions shew our allegiance to your Majesty, and our dutiful submission to all who act under your Royal Authority.

At the present period, when doctrines the most vile and dangerous are in many parts of the kingdom openly disseminated, we cannot refrain from conveying to your Majesty an assurance of our determination to support and respect to the utmost of our power, and within our respective spheres, those Laws, and that Constitution, and Religion, in the enjoyment of which we and our fathers have long happily lived.

and Brethren of Free and Accepted Masons, of the Lodge, No. 257, at Rothes, in the County of Moray, at our annual Head Meeting assembled, beg leave humbly to approach the Throne with the declaration of our firm attachment and allegiance to your Royal Person and Government.

We view with sentiments of indignation the attempts made by the artful and insidious, to undermine the foundation of all that we hold dear and valuable, as members of society and British subjects; and we take the present opportunity of conveying to your Majesty an assurance of our determination, so far as our humble abilities extend, to support and reverence that unrivalled Constitution under which we have hitherto enjoyed so many inestimable blessings.

To His Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishop of Oxford, the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church, and the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Oxford, humbly beg leave to offer to your Majesty the renewed assurance of our zealous and devoted attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government.

Contemplating, as we do, with unfeigned sorrow and abhorrence, the insidious attempts which are made by evil minded men to mislead the judgment and enflame the passions of your Majesty's faithful people, to weaken their attachment to those Laws and that Authority which they have been hitherto accustomed to love and venerate, and to excite in their minds a restless spirit of discontent and dissatisfaction, we think that it becomes us to declare to your Majesty our firm determination to counteract, as far as lies in our power, designs which, if successful, would terminate in the destruction of all that we hold most dear and valuable.

As Ministers of the Gospel, it shall be our care, as it is our bounden duty, to cherish and cultivate in the minds of those who are committed to our charge, sentiments of order and obedience to lawful Authority, and of just and well regulated attachment to our admirable Constitution in Church and State; and it shall be our constant prayer to the Almighty Disposer of all events, that your Majesty's paternal designs for the welfare of your subjects, may be blessed with success; and that under your Majesty's mild and benignant sway, the security, prosperity, and happiness which we have so long enjoyed, may be continued to us and to our children.

In the name and on behalf of the Chapter,
Charles Henry Hall, Dean of Christ Church.

In the name on behalf of the Clergy of the Diocese of Oxford,

Phineas Pett, Archdeacon of Oxford.

[Transmitted by the Bishop of Oxford.]

In pursuance of the directions of an Act, passed in the thirty-seventh year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for confirming and continuing for a limited time, the restriction contained in the Minute of Council of the 26th February 1797, on payments of cash by the Bank; and also of the several Acts since passed for continuing and amending the same;"

I do hereby direct, that there be inserted forthwith in the London Gazette, the following notice from the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, dated 1st day of February 1821, viz. Grocers' Hall, February 3, 1821.

By Authority of Parliament,

THOMAS NETTLESHIPP, Clerk of the Grocers' Company.

Payment of Prizes, First-Lottery 1820.

Lottery-Office, Somerset-Place,
January 30, 1821.

THE Commissioners appointed for managing the Lotteries do hereby give notice, that numbers of tickets and shares thereof in all preceding lotteries may be examined at this Office every day, between the hours of ten and three, with their registers of benefits and blanks.

And the Commissioners appointed to take in the benefit tickets of the first lottery for the year 1820, do hereby give notice, that they will attend at their Office in Somerset-Place, on Thursday the 22d of February next, from eleven o'clock in the forenoon to one o'clock in the afternoon, to take in and enter the benefit tickets of the said lottery, to be exchanged for certificates, pursuant to the Act of Parliament in that behalf.

And for further dispatch thereof, the said Commissioners will take in and enter the benefit tickets of class A and class C. at one seat, and the benefit tickets of class B at another seat; and the persons possessed thereof are directed to bring with their tickets separate lists thereof, marked A, B, and C, formed in numerical order, distinguishing stock from money prizes, adapted to each of the said seats, and at the bottom of each of the said lists to write the name and proper additions of the person entitled to the value of the said tickets.

And the said Commissioners also give further notice, that certificates for the value of the said tickets will be delivered out on Wednesday the 28th day of February next, at twelve of the clock at noon; after which the said Commissioners will take in and enter tickets in their usual monthly entry; and all persons interested are desired to observe, they must bring duplicates of their lists when they come for their certificates.

The Commissioners also give further notice, that tickets brought to this Office for payment, the checks of which are torn or destroyed, will not be entered for payment without a bond being given to indemnify the said Commissioners for granting certificates for the same.

Westminster, January 30, 1821.

NOTICE is hereby given, that an account of several sums granted by the Board of Customs to the officers and company of His Majesty's schooner Pioneer, William Oldroy, Esq. Commander, for seizures made by that ship between March 1819 and June 1820, will be delivered into the Registry of the High Court of Admiralty, on Wednesday the 14th of February next.

Maudes and Co. Agents.

Westminster, January 30, 1821.

NOTICE is hereby given, that an account for the distribution of a further sum received out of the Registry of the High Court of Admiralty, in part of the proceeds of the American ship Active, captured on the 23d February 1813, by His Majesty's ship Surprise, Sir Thomas Cochrane, Knt. Commander, and condemned in the Vice-Admiralty Court at Antigua, will be delivered into the Registry of the High Court of Admiralty, on Wednesday the 14th of February next.

Maudes and Co. Agents.

No. 10, Lyon's-Inn,
January 29, 1821.

NOTICE is hereby given, that an account sales of proceeds received from the Collectors in Dublin and Gallway, in part account sale of the American vessels Liberty and Clinton, and their cargoes and head-money, seized by His Majesty's sloop Sappho, J. H. Plumridge, Esq. Commander, on the 13th and 14th August 1820, will be deposited in the High Court of Admiralty, on or about the 13th of February next.

Joseph Woodhead, Agent.
