The Humble Address of your Majesties most Duriful and Loyal Subjetts, the Scamen of this your Kingdom of England.

SHEWETH,

THat the Indulgence wherewith your Majefty is daily pleafed to receive the jult and humble Congratulations endered you from Societies, the leaft Confictious among your subjects ferving you on Shore, will not fuffer us to doubt your equal Admillion of these from us, the united Body of all your Subjects devoted to the Service and Defence of your Sacred Perfon, Crown, and Dominton by Sea. Nor can we be unmindful of the Obligations under which we (of all others) fland bound to the jult Performance of this Duty, from the manifold and peculiar Benefits of Support and Protection, derived to us from your Majelty, in addition to all that we otherwise enjoy from it, in Common with the reft of our Fellow-Subjects.

On which Confiderations, we are in all Humility led to the offering to Almighty God our Unanimous Thanking of the the late Margonlous Prefervation of the most Sacred Person of your Majelty, and that of your Royal Brother, from the molt Execrable, Rebellious, and Bloody Machinations of your molt Exectable, Rebellious, and Bloody Machinations of your Enemies, and the Enemies of the Peace, Honour and Security of our Church and State, under your Majellies most Righteons Government; and thereto in most humble maan-ner (and with a fincerity fuitable to the plainness of our Profeffion) to add our unfained Vows of inviolable Allegiance to remony to add our unrained rows of invitation through the synchronized through the second sec either. With which fieldfalt Declaration of our Duties to-wards God, to your molt Sacred Majefty, and the whole Royal Family, we in all Humility remain,

May it pleafe Your Majelty, Your Majelties molt Obedient, and ever molt Loyal Subjccb and Servants, the Malter, Wardens, and Affiliants of the Trinity-Houle of Debtford Strond.
