Whitehall, July 15.

BY Letters received by the Gibraltar Man of War, from Vice-Admiral Boscawen, dated off Louisburgh, the 22d of June 1755, there is an Account, That on the 10th of that Month, the Alcide, a French Man of War of 64 Guns and 480 Men, commanded by M. Hoquart, and the Lys, commanded by M. Lageril, pierced for 64 Guns, but mounting only 22, and having 8 Companies of Land Forces on board, being separated from the French Squadron, commanded by M. Bois de Lamothe, fell in with the English Fleet off the Banks of Newfoundland, and that a Skirmish happened between the said French Men of War and His Majesty's Ships the Dunkirk and Defiance, in which the Alcide and the Lys were taken. On the 1st, having obtained Leave to come up with six of their Ships only, in Conformity to the Rules observed in this Port, the three Frigates were ordered by the French Commandant to remain at Carcais till further Orders, and the rest of the Squadron were immediately admitted above the Castle of Bellern. It is publickly said their Stay in this Harbour will not exceed eight or ten Days, and that the Frigates will have Orders to make the best of their Way to Cadiz. On the 20th Instant, the two Portuguese Men of War the N. S. de Arrabida, Capt. Francisco Soares de Bulhoens, and the N. S. de Atalaya, Capt. Manoel de Mendonça, who had convoyed the Dutch Trade as far as Cape Finisterre, returned to this Harbour, having met in their Cruize with none of the Algerine Rovers, who of late have so greatly infested this Coast.
